Homes planned for park and ride sites

* Leader of the Green Party on the council Craig Simmons

* Deputy Leader of Oxford City Council Ed Turner

PLANS TO build 2,000 homes on four of Oxford's park and ride sites have been touted as a way to ease the city's housing crisis.

Oxford City Council's Green Party leader Craig Simmons revealed to the Guardian they have been discussing the option of building homes above four council-owned park and rides with architects and council officers.

By Loughlan Campbell

The plan for flats above the car park would mean the sites could still be used as park and rides.

Cllr Simmons said: "We do not want to lose these car parking spaces as a result - it would be nice if the council could adopt these plans."

Pear Tree Park and Ride, at Wood stock Road, Seacourt Park and Ride in Botley Road, Thornhill Park and Ride off the A40 and Redbridge Park and Ride in Abingdon Road were mooted as the four sites.

Cllr Simmons added: "It's a plan that's in the very early stages right now but as we look to bring housing to Oxford to help deal with it's housing crisis it's something that we hope will be looked at.

"It's no secret that these sites are underutilised and we've got to take advantage of that."

The homes would be held up over the car parking spaces by pillars.

The council's deputy leader Ed Turner (Labour) said: "We want to leave no stone unturned in our desire to provide housing developments for the city but it does seem like a rather strange idea.

We would have to be confident that these homes would provide a good quality of life for people to live in."

He added his party is pushing for homes south of Grenoble Road to

Terror cops tracking Oxford man in Syria

COUNTER TERRORISM police have confirmed they have been investigating a 20 year-old from Oxford since March 2015 after he travelled from the city to Syria

But the parents of Jack Letts who has been dubbed Jihadi Jack by national media say he travelled to Syria for humanitarian reasons and not to fight for so called Islamic State

Mr Letts hit the national headlines on Saturday after it was reported he was the first white British youth to travel to Syria to fight for the militant group

A statement issued by Thames Valley Police on behalf of the South East Counter Terrorism Unit said "The South East Counter Terrorism Unit is aware of recent reports in the media regarding a 20 year old man from Oxford travelling to Syria and we can confirm we are investigating.

"This investigation began in March 2015 and is ongoing."

By Alex Ballinger

The statement continued "We are unable to comment in any specifics regarding the investigation but would like to say that anyone who knows someone who may be vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism related activity including travelling abroad to conflict zones should contact local police for advice and support on 101."

Mr Letts a Muslim convert and former pupil of Cherwell School told parents John and Sally Letts from Grandpont, Oxford he was travelling to Kuwait to study Arabic in September 2014 before secretly travelling to Syria

He is suspected to be now living in Iraq

Man cleared of raping woman in city centre

A 24-YEAR OLD former homeless man was found not guilty on Monday of raping of a fellow rough sleeper

Jed Francis of Long Readinge Lane in Slough was cleared of two counts of rape by a jury after a trial at Oxford Crown Court

The incident was alleged to have taken place in the early hours of the morning on March 28 last year outside Oxford Magistrates Court in Speed well Street

The jury heard the woman was sleeping with Mr Francis and another rough sleeper in sleeping bags and under blankets on the ground outside the front doors of the magistrates court

The woman who cannot be named for legal reasons said she had had sex with Mr Francis two weeks before the alleged offence

She also said she had been having sex with the other man just before Mr Francis raped her

Mr Francis claimed he and the victim had had sex two days before the alleged incident near Christ Church College

Incense sparks fire in Abingdon home

FIREFIGHTERS were called to a serious fire in Abingdon on Tuesday believed to have been caused by an incense burner

Two fire engines from Abingdon, one from Oxford and a specialist vehicle from Eynsham were called to Farm Road at around 10.50pm

A neighbour raised the alarm after smelling smoke and hearing the smoke alarm.

The house was empty at the time and fire crews entered to property to extinguish the fire using hose reels and a pressure fan.

Incident commander WM Kerry said. "This could have been a lot worse

Had the property not had working smoke alarms the fire would have gone undetected for a significant amount of time resulting in even greater damage."

Oxfordshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service had previously fitted this property with the smoke alarms

The occupier arrived back at the house shortly after the fire service's arrival

Significant damage was caused to the first floor of the house with smoke spreading to the adjoining property

Scrapping grants would 'betray Oxford students'

By Loughlan Campbell

MORE than 30 per cent of Oxford students rely on maintenance grants to fund their studies, new figures have shown

The statistics were released last week as Oxford East MP Andrew Smith warned abolishing maintenance grants for students from poorer families in place of loans would be 'betraying' Oxford students

Nearly 16 per cent of Oxford University students and 22 per cent of Oxford Brookes University students took out maintenance grants last year costing £19.5 million, according to Student Loans Company data

The Conservatives proposal to scrap student maintenance grants in favour of loans was first put forward in George Osborne's budget in July

Last week the Labour Party tabled an annulment motion to block the proposal, but this was voted down by 300 to 292 in the House of Commons

Mr Smith who voted to block the proposal, said "Maintenance grants provide vital support for students from lower income backgrounds both those from Oxford and those who come to study here

"These changes won't deliver fairness or sound public finances but they could make poorer students think twice about going into higher education due to the considerable debts they will rack up in the process. Instead of investing in future generations they are betraying students."

Following the House of Commons vote last Tuesday, the House of Lords also voted the proposal down by 155 to 138 on Monday

In total, 2,574 students out of 25,905 from Oxford University and 4,229 out of 18,695 Oxford Brookes students took grants out last year

Maintenance grants are given to students to help with costs such as rent, food, energy bills and study materials

The loss of grants is expected to affect around half a million people around the country

David Cameron Witney MP said during a debate of Prime Minister's Questions last Wednesday 'Our policies are actually going to put more money into the hands of students which is why we're doing it.'

Natalie Gidley communications officer at Oxford Brookes University said "Oxford Brookes strongly believes that higher education should be available to all and this commitment will remain should the government take the decision to make changes to funding."

Park and ride homes mooted to ease crisis

link with plans to open a train station at Oxford Science Park, reported by the Guardian last week

But the land is in South Oxfordshire District Council which has previously opposed the plan.

The council's leader of the Liberal Democrats, Jean Fooks pointed out one concern would be about where the residents would park.

She said, "We would just get the park and ride used by people who are living there which is not what it is for."

She added, "We have to give future generations a nice place to live or we're condemning them to living in miserable boxes."

She said her party is more in favour of building homes on the sites or halving them so they could be half housing and half park and ride

Last year Oxfordshire County Council's Local Transport Plan revealed proposals to build six new park and rides outside Oxford - in Sandford, Lodge Hill in Abingdon, Cumnor Eynsham Langford Lane near Oxford Airport and Kidlington.

The plan would free up the city's park and ride sites to build housing, but has been opposed by nearby residents and the countryside protection charity the CPRE

Oxford is facing a housing shortfall of up to 21,800 homes by 2031 unless it can find extra land to build

The council's executive board approved the production of a new local plan for Oxford at a meeting at the Town Hall last Thursday. The Oxford Local Plan 2036 will set out the growth of the city and is due to be completed by 2018

22-year-old not guilty of Didcot rape

A 22-YEAR-OLD man has been found not guilty of raping a 19-year-old woman at a house in Queensway, Didcot in 2014.

Timothy Lee, of no fixed abode, was cleared of rape by a jury on Monday after a five-day trial at Oxford Crown Court (below).

The woman, who cannot be named for legal reasons, told the court she had sat in the house for five hours after the alleged attack because she was too scared to leave.

Gareth James, defending, said: "He didn't pin you down and force you to have sex with him."

Mr Lee was cleared of two counts of rape and one count of assault causing actual bodily harm.

TV's Brian Cox marks grand college opening

By Alex Ballinger

PHYSICIST TV personality and author Professor Brian Cox visited a Didcot college on Tuesday where he formally marked the opening of UTC Oxfordshire.

Professor Cox was given a tour of the state-of-the-art teaching facility before giving a guest speech to students and unveiling a commemorative plaque.

The University Technical College (UTC) cost £16.4million and opened its doors to students last September while half of the building was still under construction.

Professor Cox said: "I just saw the cryogenics lab. To see a school with the potential to do experiments at that level - it's unique.

"We see it all across the school. It's genius.

"It's something I talk about a lot. How do we get schools to work with local industry? This is a perfect example of that in action."

Building work on the school, which has 150 students, was finished in October last year and specialises in engineering and science, offering work with companies like BMW Mini and Activile Learning.

The UTC also has hi-tech cryogenics labs to study the production and behaviour of materials at low temperatures.

Student at the college Callum Huntly-17 from Wallingford said: "I want to do engineering. It's something I've really enjoyed since I was little.

"This college focuses on the BTEC side of things, something my last school didn't."

There are 38 UTC's in the UK, the first of which opened in 2010.

UTC's are dubbed career colleges and aim to encourage 14 to 19-year-olds to bridge the gap between school and work.

One of the spearheads behind the UTC movement, Lord Kenneth Baker also visited the college for a second time after first being treated to a tour of the unfinished building last October.

Principal of the college Owain Johns said: "We have had an incredible first term with our pioneer students making use of our industry standard facilities and the expertise of our teachers and employer partners to develop their skills and knowledge.

"This official opening event was designed to recognise the huge amount of effort put in by so many people to get the school up and running.

He added: "Ultimately however it was about inspiring our young people to continue to make the most of this unique learning experience."

Warehouse plans

BICESTER. Plans to build giant warehouses have been deferred.

Albion Land wants to build a 53,000 sqm business park on farmland off Middleton Stoney Road and Howes Lane, Bicester, which it said would create up to 1,000 jobs.

The plans, recommended for approval by planning officers, included offices, general industrial units and warehouses up to 16.75m high.

Cherwell District Councillors were due to decide the planning application last Thursday, January 21, but it was deferred "to allow further negotiations with the agent to discuss the proportion of B uses across the application site."

Airfield trees

BICESTER. The owner of the former RAF Bicester flying field wants to remove 10 trees from the site to make way for a café and carpark.

Bicester Heritage, which own the site in Buckingham Road, have been restoring the former RAF flying field into a business park for historic motoring and aviation companies.

It has applied for planning approval to Cherwell District Council.

None of the trees have a tree preservation order in place.

PM has 'vendetta' against Oxfordshire, Cllr claims

PRIME Minister David Cameron s war of words with Oxfordshire County Council continued last week as a leading Oxford councillor claimed the Witney MP has a personal vendetta against Oxfordshire

The Conservative MP suggested last Wednesday that Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) should look again at the £69 million worth of cuts the local authority is having to make by 2018

Prime Minister David Cameron

By Loughlan Campbell

Mr Cameron previously clashed with the council in November after leaked emails revealed disputes between OCC Leader Ian Hudspeth and Mr Cameron

His latest retort comes after the council s cabinet sent the Prime Minister a letter warning him of the devastating cuts that the council had been forced into making

The council announced last week that money from their reserves would have to be used and a 3 99 per cent increase in council tax from April next year would be brought in to tackle the measures

Mr Cameron said in his response "I understand it will be challenging for councils to make the further necessary savings but, as an Oxfordshire MP I would urge the council to look again at its budget proposals

"The recent Spending Review included a package of measures to support local government enabling them to streamline their asset base and invest in services

"We have made it possible for councils to sell property assets and use the capital to invest in transforming local services – and ensure further savings"

However county councillor John Tanner who is an executive board member on Oxford City Council told the Guardian

"The continuing spat between Ian Hndspeth and the Prime Minister is damaging Oxfordshire right now

"What this shows is how naive some of the Conservatives on the county council were when they knew that the Tory's election manifesto meant cuts to local councils "

Cllr Tanner added "What this shows is that David Cameron has a personal vendetta against Oxfordshire "

The council carried out a public consultation titled Talking Oxfordshire last year in which they identified 95 savings options that amounted to the £50m they originally needed at the time

The savings are set to include scrapping mobile libraries, bus subsidies funding for carers the arts and the homeless

They are due to firm up its budget on February 16 with the document ready to be adopted in April.

The Guardian approached both Mr Hndspeth and Mr Cameron for comment but recieved no response

Armed men hold up bank in Headington

POLICE are hunting for two men who are believed to be armed after the robbery of a Lloyds Bank in Headington on Saturday morning

The offenders entered the bank in London Road at around 10 30am demanding money with one man wielding what is believed to be a firearm

They left the bank with the stolen money and fled in a white BMW 1 Series getaway vehicle

Investigating officer Detective Sergeant Parsons from Force CID based in Oxford said "This was a frightening crime which took place in broad daylight on a Saturday morning

"Although no one was injured staff and customers are obviously shocked by the experience "

The first offender is described as white 5ft 7ins tall and slim wearing a blue boiler suit and his face was covered

The second offender is black, 6ft 2ins and was also wearing a blue boiler suit with his face covered

Both are believed to be in their twenties

Det Sgt Parsons added "I would ask anyone with information to get in touch immediately " Call police on 101

Peace be with you - thanks to Triple Glazing

If you are looking for inner peace and extra warmth in your home during the winter chill Triple Glazing could be the answer - especially when you can get it at Double Glazing prices until 31st January

SEH BAC which has been installing windows, doors and conservatories for decades, says Triple Glazing customers enjoy not just energy efficient insulation but an extra cushion against noise pollution.

The technology is extremely popular in Scandinavian countries where a blanket of snow reappears each winter.

Energy efficiency ratings for windows carry a 'U' grading, with the lowest number being more energy efficient - single glazing has a U value of around 5, older double glazing 1.8, modern double glazing 1.3, while Triple Glazing carries a stunning 1.1 U value.

Norman Hemgold, Sales and Marketing Director of SEH BAC, said: "It is the perfect solution to saving on your energy bills giving you a quieter home, too."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in restoring windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames - has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service.

Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass in a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just a local saving, people matter, although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that raising the good name of a security package that I, family and customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really think I respect that sort of service which is a way in very and for the service industry as a whole.

Cloudy2Clear services Oxfordshire from their local depots and James is finding that its approach is a major factor in his success. "The bottom line is not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call, for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help.

Thame council votes to hike town's council tax

By Jayne Smith

THAME town councillors have voted through a rise of almost 10 per cent for the council tax precept

Councillors agreed an increase of 9 9 per cent which equates to £12 34 a year for band D households

In total Thame Town Council need to raise £596 209 from the precept £30 600 more than last year

A report said although the town council had made a series of cuts and efficiencies a rise in the precept was necessary due changes "beyond its control"

These included changes to staff National Insurance and pension arrangements combined with a reduced grant from South Oxfordshire District Council and increased responsibilities from Oxfordshire County Council

A grant for £28 000 has been received to help improve the "vibrancy and vitality" of Thame's town centre

A decision has yet to be made on how the cash will be spent but the council will look into employing a market town co-ordinator to work on town centre economic development projects and a part-time neighbourhood plan continuity officer to work on Thame's neighbourhood plan

Capital projects planned for the next year include re-building the Cricket Clubhouse and a loan to the rugby club and improvements to Elms Park.

A town council statement said: "The Town Council is committed to continuing to deliver the projects functions and services that residents workers and visitors to the town expect and we thank everyone for their ongoing support in that work.

"We always welcome suggestions from residents on ways that we can improve our budgeting still further

Get ready for half-term panto fun

TICKETS have gone on sale for the 30th Launton pantomime Cinderella

Launton Village Players have staged pantommes every February half term since 1986

Director Martin Evans has written 21 of them – including this year s show Cinderella

It will have all the usual characters Cinderella the ugly sisters a Fairy God mother and a Prince

But in true Launton panto mime style there will also be a few new characters including Broker's Men Miss Heave and Mr Ho and Crazy Cutters mobile hairdressers Juhan and Sandy and their apprentices Dipsy and LaLa.

In the three decades the pantomime has been running the group has raised more than £70 000 for local and international charities

Producer Celia Evans who has appeared in all 30 shows said "This year we decided to go for the classic Panto story Cinderella

"It s the third time we have put this on The previous times were in 1988 and 2000 and we have a brand new script to work with."

She warned there was a "messy scene" featuring the hairdressers and plenty of chances to sing along

Cinderella is staged at Cooper School s performance hall on Thursday 18 Friday 19 and Saturday 20 February at 2 30pm and 7 30pm

Tickets cost £5 for children and £9 for adults available from Bicester Oxfam Shop Sheep Street and Launton Post Office, Bicester Road

Man jailed for damaging cars with stones and ball bearings

A WITNEY man has been jailed for eight months after a string of criminal damage incidents over four months in Hampshire

Alec Hammerton 43 of Fieldmere Close and Damon Jennings 44 of Manorfields Road in Milton Keynes were sentenced on January 21 to eight months each for conspiracy to damage or destroy property

Both men pleaded guilty at Winchester Crown Court on January 8 to conspiracy to commit criminal damage

The incidents took place along the A272 between Petersfield and Winchester where stones or similar objects such as ball bearings were used.

Police staff investigator Karen Slade said: "This was a mindless campaign to cause criminal damage which has had a devastating effect on the community

"Some residents felt as though they were being individually targeted as their vehicles were damaged on multiple occasions."

The 35 incidents took place between June and September last year

Three months delay for hospital energy pipeline

A £14.8m scheme to install a pipeline between the John Radcliffe and Churchill hospitals in Headington could be held up by three months after delays because of a planning dispute

Work on the Hospital Energy Project was halted earlier this month after an Oxford City Council officer wrote to contractors Vital Energi to say it did not have planning approval.

Vital then submitted a planning application two weeks but a decision on it will not be made until March after Headington councillor Ruth Wilkinson called it in so it had to go before the planning committee rather than being agreed by officers under their delegated powers

Cllr Wilkinson said she asked for it to be called in to give residents a chance to hear the issues surrounding the scheme at a committee meeting, despite the fact that the plan might have been approved more quickly by the officers alone

Councillor Wilkinson said: "It's all a bit mad

"If it goes to committee it's not likely to get the go ahead until March."

The retroactive planning application was submitted to Oxford City Council on January 11

The determination deadline for the application has been given as March 14

About 1.3 miles of pipework is due to be laid between the two hospitals and was due to take around 18 months to complete

The scheme is designed to improve the energy efficiency of both hospitals and includes laying insulated water pipes and a communication cable to improve data transfer

Oxford University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust and Vital have said they are looking to submit a planning application for an area on Woodlands Road to become a temporary car park for residents

Spokesperson for the trust Kachun Neville said: "It will be solely for the use of residents when the access to their houses/drives/garages is closed as each section of the pipe is being laid

"Surveying has shown that at any time during the laying of the pipeline no more than 30 car parking spaces will be suspended."

The trust will also issue 25 free visitors parking permits for residents to park in neighbouring parking zones

Vital Energi did not respond to the Guardian's request for comment

Prison visitor arrested in contraband operation

A 30-YEAR-OLD woman has been arrested on suspicion of trying to smuggle cocaine into Bullingdon Prison near Bicester

The arrest was made as part of a joint operation last Wednesday to cut down the supply of drugs, mobile phones and other contraband into the prison.

The woman, from London, was arrested on suspicion of possession with intent to supply Class A drugs and was released on bail until March 2

A total of 161 people were searched in the operation including prisoners, visitors and prison staff

There were five traces of cocaine found in the operation as well as five of heroin, one of the hallucinogenic drug THC, three of MDMA and two of cannabis

The operation at HMP Bullingdon involved officers from South East Regional Organised Crime Unit, Thames Valley Police, South East Counter Terrorism Unit and the National Crime Agency

Governor of the prison, Ian Blakeman said: "This was another successful operation which targeted those intent on supplying illegal contraband into prisons

Chippy residents will go to the polls

• Chipping Norton mayor Mike Tysoe is urging residents to vote on Thursday, March 3

CHIPPING Norton residents will go to the polls in March to vote on the town's neighbourhood plan.

The plan will guide future development in the town until 2031.

A referendum will take place on Thursday March 3 from 7am to 10pm.

People will be asked "Do you want West Oxfordshire District Council to use the neighbourhood plan for Chipping Norton to help it decide planning applications in the neighbourhood area?"

Town mayor Mike Tysoe said it was important people voted in the referendum.

He said: "We as a town have spent four years putting this thing together and have had a lot of consultations.

"Hopefully it's a meeting of the minds. None of these documents will ever be perfect – we haven't gone into allocating sites if we had gone into allocating sites we would have been working on it for another three years.

"The hoops you have to jump through to get sites allocated are enormous.

"We think it's very important the town go and vote on it."

If more than 50 per cent vote in favour the plan will be adopted and used to help decide planning applications within the Chipping Norton area.

Work on the neighbourhood plan started in 2012 and has been led by a steering group of nine including residents and town councillors.

It hosted a series of consultation events including a workshop, questionnaires, open days, public meetings and town-wide mail-drops.

Last year the proposed plan was given the green light by an independent planning inspector.

In her report planning inspector Ann Skippers said: "The Neighbourhood Plan recognises that the challenge for Chipping Norton is to meet the needs of development whilst ensuring that the unique qualities of this historic town and the special setting of the town and its surroundings as a gateway to the Cotswolds are conserved and enhanced. The importance of Chipping Norton as a vibrant working town shines through the variety of policies in this Neighbourhood Plan."

A neighbourhood plan helps guide future development and can set out where housing or employment could be developed, the types of development and what infrastructure, such as open spaces and paths, was welcome.

Bicester cleans for the Queen

BICESTER residents, schools and businesses are being urged to take part in a nationwide litter pick to support a campaign marking the Queen's 90th birthday.

Called Clean for the Queen, the initiative has been launched by charity Keep Britain Tidy and will culminate with a national litter pick between March 4 and 6.

Community groups including parish councils, Scouts and Brownies are being encouraged to join schools, businesses and councils to take part in voluntary clean ups of their local areas.

Bicester's MP Victoria Prentis and Cherwell District Council have backed the initiative.

Cherwell said it will loan litter pickers, high visibility jackets and waste and recycling sacks to groups.

Mrs Prentis said: "This is a great opportunity to make sure North Oxfordshire is clean and tidy in time for HM The Queen's official 90th birthday on 21 April.

"Although the big litter pick will take place over 4, 5 and 6 March, people can get involved whenever they like."

Cllr Debbie Pickford, Cherwell's lead member for clean and green, said: "We want as many people as possible to get on board and sign up for this event.

Oxford parking rates lowered

ALL-DAY rates at Oxford's Oxpens Car Park have been docked by 65 per cent in a move by Oxford City Council.

The council are now offering all-day parking permits at the car park in Oxpens Road for just £8 - a sizeable reduction on the standard £23.11 costs to park there on weekdays.

The discounted tickets must be purchased online in advance - available Monday to Friday running from Mid night to 23.59.

The offer will run until the new Westgate Shopping Centre opens its doors in October 2017.

There are only 160 tickets up for grabs and the city council are offering them on a first-come first serve basis.

Cllr Alex Hollingsworth, council executive board member for travel said: "The Oxpens car park is not always full during weekdays which is also when the roads are less busy so we have the option to make this offer.

"All our other car parks are running at full capacity throughout the week, and we always encourage drivers to look at park and ride and public transport as the best alternatives for the city centre."

Parking charges will remain unchanged at the other city centre car parks.

Oxford will be electric car pioneer in new trial

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD is set to be the first city in the world to have on-street electric vehicle charging stations after a major trial was announced to take place this year.

The Trial by Oxford City Council and Oxfordshire County Council (OCC) will investigate the best way for 300 on-street charging stations to be put in residential streets around Oxford. This summer, the councils will invite technology suppliers to present solutions to electric car owners in the city with the hope to trial 30 chargers from six different organisations by the end of this year.

Following the trial, the best option will be rolled out in 100 sites around Oxford in 2018.

Ian Hudspeth, OCC leader said: "This project will put Oxfordshire at the forefront of innovative low carbon transport solutions and will help stimulate economic growth in the electric vehicle sector.

"A high proportion of properties in Oxford do not have access to off street parking which makes charging an electric vehicle very challenging."

The councils received a £300 000 grant from the Office for Low Emission Vehicles which was made possible after the Government set up the £40m Go Ultra Low Cities scheme last year.

The scheme was set up to strive to make every new passenger vehicle sold in the UK by 2050 an ultra low emission vehicle.

Possible ideas touted include cable gullies laid into the pavement or high tech lamp posts that are capable of charging a vehicle.

John Tanner Oxford City board member for climate change said: "Electric cars are the future and this extra government cash will help Oxford residents switch on to cheaper fuel, clean air and low carbon.

"I'm thrilled that Oxford will be leading the way to more electric and hybrid vehicles. We want to make it as easy as possible for anyone driving in Oxford to turn to renewable energy."

They are also asking for those with electric cars who don't park on street to take part in the trial. Residents can get in touch to take part by emailing airquality@oxford.gov.uk.

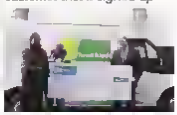
£3k cheque

OXFORD: Benson based Grundon Waste Management presented a cheque to Oxford Food Bank for more than £3 000 on Friday.

The waste company launched a Festive Food Share campaign over December in which it enabled the distribution of more than £60 000 worth of food.

Grundon encouraged Oxfordshire businesses to dispose of food as a last resort and to segregate food waste.

The company then donated cash for every new food waste customer that it signed up.



Triple burglary

OXFORD: Jewellery, watches and cash were stolen in a spate of linked burglaries in North Oxford last Thursday.

Burglars gained entry to a house in Buckler Road, Cutteslowe between 4pm and 7pm before a house in Sunderland Avenue, Wolvercote also saw the same offence between 5pm and 7.50pm.

A third burglary also occurred at Rosomund Road, in Wolvercote, Oxford.

Man charged after attempt to rob store

A MAN has been charged by police following an attempted robbery at a supermarket in Rose Hill Oxford last Wednesday in which a man was stabbed in the arm

Police and South Central Ambulance Service (SCAS) were called to Premier Turna Supermarket in The Oval at 4 45pm following reports that a male had suffered a stab wound.

The victim was taken to the John Radcliffe Hospital.

Ricky Harris 25, of Pegasus Road Blackbird Leys was arrested by police on Thursday on suspicion of a robbery of a business

He was subsequently charged with attempted robbery wounding with intent threatening a person with a blade or sharply pointed article in a public place and racially aggravated public order

He appeared at Oxford Magistrates Court on Friday and was remanded in custody to appear at Oxford Crown Court on February 19

David Galtopher spokesperson for SCAS said 'The assailant was being detained at the premises and our first responders to the scene therefore waited for police to arrive before entering the premises"

Parish voices concerns over hydro plant size

A PARISH council has voiced its concerns over the scale of a proposed hydro electric plant on the River Thames at Sandford weir as preliminary work on the project started last week.

The scheme is being spearheaded by Oxford-based community energy company Low Carbon Hub (LCH) and is estimated to cost about £3 2 million.

But the chair of Kennington Parish Council, Colin Charlett has opposed changes to the plans which would see a taller building erected on the site

Councillor Charlett said 'I can't say we're overjoyed about it. It's going to be looking like a monstrous barn in a rural area

"[LCH] approached us We're not interested in joining them

By Alex Ballinger

We don t feel it's a worthwhile way to spend council taxpayers' money"

He said that the original plans would have seen three small buildings built over each of the Archimedes screws to be placed in the river but a planning application has been submitted to Vale of White Horse District Council to erect a single building that is three metres taller

The project will use the river's current to generate 1 600MWh of electricity a year enough to power 385 homes.

The preliminary work started on the scheme last Monday with workers digging a number of holes to determine exactly what type of soil was there

Operations director at LCH Adriano Figueiredo said the work was still part of the design phase and that construction was due to begin in April and to be completed by October or early November

He added "The project will generate over 20 years about £1 5m in community benefits that will be reinvested in community projects

"It's about local people being able to own it It's about renewable energy"

The hydro project will be part funded by members of the local community buying shares in the company due to go on sale in March or April

It will sit in the river near Sandford but falls within the parish boundary of Kennington.

Chair of Sandford Parish Council, Steve Paine said 'My views are supporting the project

"I know a lot of research has gone into this over a long space of time It's very impressive

"I don't think it's going to create a particular problem for river users or natural parts of the river from what I've heard."

A hydro scheme was launched in the Thames at Osney in Oxford and has been running since last January But Abingdon's proposed scheme was abandoned in November after organisers decided it was not financially viable

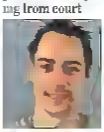
Man accused of causing death is caught by police

A MAN accused of causing the death of a 43 year old woman in a road traffic collision while driving uninsured and over the legal alcohol limit was caught by police on Friday after absconding from court



David Farnell, 28, (left), of Britannia Road, Banbury, was at his address on December 15 but failed to appear regarding the charges at Oxford Crown Court on January 8

Police issued a public appeal to trace Farnell on Thursday and he was located in Bicester the next day before appearing at Oxford Crown Court

He was charged last November of causing death whilst driving without due care and attention whilst over the prescribed drinking limit and for driving in an uninsured car in relation to the incident that took place on July 27 last year at Sutton Courtenay near Abingdon on the B4016 Drayton Road

The collision occurred at about 3.10pm when a blue and silver Mitsubushi vehicle collided with a tree and the female passenger died at the scene

Police issued a statement thanking the public for their help in tracing Farnell.

Launch of new rail link is delayed until December

By Loughlan Campbell

PASSENGERS hoping to commute from Oxford Railway Station to London Marylebone will now have to wait until December

The link between Oxford Parkway Station, near Kidlington and the main Oxford station was originally scheduled to open this spring, but has since been pushed back to December 12 due to complaints about noise and vibration from the building works

The opening of the route will also see Bicester having a direct train line with Oxford city centre for the first time since the link was closed to construction of the train links in 2011

Richard Stow Thames Valley spokesperson for railway action group Rail Future told the Guardian that the project had faced fierce objections in the past from Wolvercote residents and a public inquiry was held in 2010 and 2011 on the project

He said: "Unfortunately the delay was inevitable given the strident opposition that has faced the project from residents in North Oxford

"I think you've got to take into account that it's not a huge delay and it was expected However of course we are disappointed that the works won't be completed sooner

Mr Stow added that Rail Future had been made aware by residents of their fears for the project.

He said. "There have been a lot of fears with the route in terms of the construction of the tracks and the noise and vibration from the works"

Following the public inquiry Oxford City Council was given the responsibility for signing off matters relating to noise and vibration

Dave Penney managing director for Chiltern Railways said. "The new line provides customers from Oxford city centre with more trains to London and provides a new route for many businesses and leisure visitors to the city"

Martin Frobisher route managing director for Network Rail said "This is a significant next step in connecting Oxford with London Marylebone and follows the successful opening of the line from Oxford Parkway last year"

The £130m Oxford Parkway station was opened by the Prime Minister David Cameron last October with 3 000 commuters passing through its doors every day

The existing line to London from Oxford Railway Station is the route to London Paddington, via Didcot and Reading.

Apprenticeships above national average in Oxon

MORE people in Oxfordshire are choosing apprenticeships than the national average according to figures released on Thursday

Statistics from the Skills Funding Agency revealed that the number of people starting apprenticeships in Oxfordshire aged under 19 had increased by more than five per cent in the last year and was higher than the average for the South East which was just over two per cent

Between the ages of 19 to 24 60 more apprenticeships were taken up in the county – an increase of 5 4 per cent more than the national average. A total of 124,300 people took up apprenticeships in the whole of England last year equating to a percentage increase of 5 2 per cent.

Oxfordshire County Council and the Government made a commitment to create more apprenticeships in the county as part of the £1 2 billion City Deal agreement in January 2014

Melinda Tilley cabinet member for children and education said. "With national legislation now requiring young people to stay in some form of education or training until the age of 18 the apprenticeship option is something well worth considering '

Oxford students set out to relive epic 1923 trek

By Loughlan Campbell

A GROUP of brave Oxford undergraduates are embarking on an epic journey as the first people to retrace the steps of a "ground breaking" expedition of 1923 to discover the then undocumented islands of Svalbard near the North Pole.

The seven students and University fellow Dr Stephen Pax Leonard of Exeter College are undertaking the trip to the archipelago between the North Pole and Norway in July

> We are all extremely excited to begin this epic journey

They will face 30 days of icy temperatures to record biological research of the landscape

The original expedition in July 1923 saw four University students cover 180 miles by skiing and sledging while photographing the landscape

This year the students retrace the steps of their alumni, keeping diaries along the way and camping in ice amid temperatures ranging from 5 to 10°C

Expedition leader James Lam 22, who is studying physical Queen's College says it will be the biggest thing he's ever done

He told the Guardian. "This is a really personal trip for us students as we're hoping to retrace the steps of a historic group of Oxford students

"We want to go on exactly the same expedition and pay homage to them but it will take a lot of planning to get it right

The group is undergoing tough physical training to prepare for the excursion and are heading to Norway early in the summer to test their skills in the conditions

The route will see them trek from Duym Point past Bear Bay ending up at Billen Bay by walking and skiing each pulling about 100kg of equipment

They attended a series of university talks about solo expeditions and decided in November to travel to Svalbard

Mr Lam added "It's literally the biggest thing I've ever done and we are all extremely excited to begin this epic journey

"We're hoping to lay another baseline in research of the area so that later this century new comparisons can be drawn."

As part of their expedition the group will carry out fixed point repeat photography (replicating previous photos from the same spot) as they look to focus on how the landscape has changed over the 93 years between the expeditions

They will also conduct temperature profiling of the landscapes various environments and hope to climb Svalbard's mountains, including it's highest reaching 1,713m above sea level, Newton Toppen

The group is filming their trip and hopes to release a documentary to screen at film festivals

ADVERTORIAL

The Changing Face Of Men's Wedding Attire

British wedding habits have changed rapidly during the last few years, and this evolvement continues into 2016

- The average wedding now costs over £16,000
- The trend for cupcakes is falling out of favour, being replaced with trends like cheese towers
- Purple is the most popular bridesmaids dress colour
- 18% of newlyweds now honeymoon in the UK and 34% in Europe

These changes are also reflected in what the groom is opting to wear on his big day. At The Cotswold Tailor we have noticed big shifts in demand in both our hire department and our bespoke tailoring service, when it comes to wedding suits.

In 2015 we rented out not a single frock coat, and demand for morning coats fell significantly. When we did rent out a morning coat, more often than not the groom has opted to move away from traditional wedding waistcoats, and instead replaced these with tweed (see picture right)

Noticeably with both my bespoke and hire wear clients, there has been a shift towards more tailored, three piece, slim fit, lounge suits, particularly brighter blue shades. With many of my bespoke clients pointing out the benefits of getting frequent use out of the lounge suit post the wedding.

Possibly the biggest trend, however, has been in the rising popularity of tweed. As country/natural themed weddings have grown in popularity so too has the demand for both three piece tweed suits, but also the more relaxed look of a pair of chinos paired with tweed waistcoats and tweed jacket. (see picture right)

This look has become so popular that 2016 has seen us launch an entire new hire wear range dedicated to tweed.

WIN tickets to the unmissable London Classic Car Show

A spectacular new international classic car show took the country by storm last January – now it's back even bigger and even better than ever before. And you could be there too as we have five pairs of Sunday tickets to giveaway in this very special promotion.

Staged at the ultra modern ExCeL exhibition centre in Docklands from 18-21 February 2016, the London Classic Car is the capital's biggest and best celebration of automotive history.

Crammed with innovative features mouth watering classic cars plus a star studded list of celebrity visitors. The inaugural show was such a resounding success that the follow up will be nearly twice as big.

The event's centrepiece is the The Grand Avenue – a central boulevard along which many iconic classics are driven. Everything from genuine Formula 1 Grand Prix racers to some of the most sought-after supercars from yesteryear take to the high-octane catwalk allowing visitors to see and hear their favourites in action. For 2016, The Grand Avenue will be even grander with a significant increase in track distance.

Another of the eye catching additions for 2016 is an entire new hall dedicated to prestige and performance classics with privately owned examples representing the country's 25 leading car clubs helping to create an entire show within a show. Visitors, too, will be treated to period entertainment to continue the hall's retro vibe.

Tickets are now available from the official show website www.thelondonclassiccarshow.co.uk. Adult admittance – if tickets are purchased in advance – is priced at just £23.

Closing date: Friday February 5

WIN tickets to see Mrs Henderson Presents

DON'T miss MRS HENDERSON PRESENTS the hilarious brand-new, five-star musical based on the much loved film that starred Dame Judi Dench and Bob Hoskins as it makes its West End debut in February 2015 having left critics in raptures at the Theatre Royal Bath.

It's London, 1937 and recently widowed eccentric Laura Henderson is looking for a way of spending her time and money. After acquiring and renovating the Windmill Theatre, she hires feisty impresario Vivian Van Damm to present a bill of non-stop variety acts. But as war looms something more is required to boost morale and box office. Mrs Henderson comes up with the idea of The Windmill Girls – glamorous young women posing as nude statues – and audiences flock!

With book and direction by the Tony Award-winning Terry Johnson (La Cage Aux Folles), choreography by Andrew Wright (Singin' in the Rain, Guys and Dolls), lyrics by the multi-award winning Don Black (Sunset Boulevard) and music by George Fenton and Simon Chamberlain, this glorious and heartwarming new production stars Olivier winner Tracie Bennett (Les Misérables, End of the Rainbow, ITV's Coronation Street), Olivier-nominated Ian Bartholomew (Into the Woods) and Olivier nominated Emma Williams (Chitty Chitty Bang Bang).

Closing date: Friday, February 19th

WIN TICKETS!

Most Oxfordshire businesses gave pay rises – But many thought salaries were still uncompetitive

One-quarter of the Oxfordshire based employers who took part in a recent survey are unsure whether their salaries are competitive enough, according to a new report.

The annual Oxfordshire Salary Survey run by the county's leading independent recruitment consultancy Allen Associates, has revealed that 25% of employers are unsure whether their wages are sufficiently competitive while almost one in five said they didn't think they were.

However, almost all respondents awarded pay rises to their staff in 2015 with over three quarters (77%) increasing salaries across the business and a further 18% giving pay rises in certain areas or to selected individuals. Typically these were in the region of 2% to 4% and for one-quarter of businesses, this represented a bigger pay rise than in the previous year.

Kate Allen, Managing Director at Allen Associates, said: "While over half the businesses responding to our latest salary survey were confident that their salaries were set at the right level, it's concerning that 43% were unsure or believed they were uncompetitive – despite awarding pay rises.

"Demand for the brightest and most talented people is at the highest level we've seen for years – and there is every indication that it will rise further in 2016 as employers continue to want to resource their growth or take their business in new directions. At the very least and as a starting point, job seekers will be looking for a competitive salary."

The report also revealed that businesses were divided over whether employees placed greater value on working environment and culture – or salary. Working environment and culture came out on top with 36% saying they thought staff valued this most slightly above salary (35%) and softer benefits such as extra holidays, working from home and flexible hours (27%).

Kate Allen continued: "While salary may not be everything, it can often make all the difference to candidates who are weighing up their options. We are increasingly seeing good candidates with more than one job offer to choose from, so at the very least, employers must offer competitive remuneration packages if they want to attract their first choice.

"Fortunately most forward-looking businesses recognise that they need to consider a wide range of factors, including salary, when targeting today's discerning workforce. By far the greatest number of job applicants are the so-called millennials born in the 1980s and 90s, who look for different qualities in their employers when compared to previous generations. They want to earn well but they also place great value on a business's workplace culture and conditions, environmental credentials, reputation and corporate social responsibility to name a few, so it's imperative that these are as attractive as possible.

"There is a lot for employers to think about and our research indicates that many are working hard to get it right and to stay one step ahead of the game. With such a fast-paced recruitment market, employers will need to move with the times and continue to invest in modern day practices, training and professional development to retain and attract the best candidates," added Mrs Allen.

Allen Associates Oxfordshire Salary Survey looked at salary and benefits data for 1,316 staff provided by 61 employers. For more information on this survey or to obtain a copy of the report

Of the employers who took part in Allen Associates' Oxfordshire Salary Survey:

95% awarded pay rises in 2015

The average pay rise was 2 to 4%

For 25% this was higher than in 2014

But just 57% believe their salaries are competitive enough

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Blues man to launch tour

By James Richings

FOLLOWING the release of his latest album 'The Only Good Addiction Is Love' roots and blues musician Sean Taylor will head to the Old Fire Station in Oxford on Thursday February 4

The first stop on his UK tour which will also see the musician perform in Basingstoke Chesham Doncaster and many other venues Sean hopes to make a good impression when he visits the George Street venue next week

"The title of the album comes from the former president of Uruguay a man named Pepe who was described as the poorest president in the world," Sean told the Guardian

"He gave 90 per cent of his salary to charity refused to live in the presidential palace and instead lived on a farm with his wife and three-legged dog

Pope famously said 'The Only Good Addiction Is Love' and I thought that was beautiful"

Playing in a trio with fellow musicians Hana Piranha on violin and drummer Paulina Szczepaniak the threesome will focus on playing tracks from his latest album but will also include material from his previous seven records

It was in his teenage years that saw Sean develop a love for music

After being inspired by Noel Gallagher s musical and writing skills in his Oasis days Sean started to learn the guitar before discovering the late-1960s blues scene

That discovery has played a huge part in Sean s current musical influence which has seen him become a popular name on the UK blues scene

After completing his 11-date UK tour the 32-year old will then embark on a European tour including gigs in Spain Holland and Germany

"Every gig is always different and I never write a set list which makes it even more exciting" Sean said.

"You have to react to the audience at every show and make it different

"There will bluesy folk psychedelic and lo fi songs about the world around us"

He added "I travelled to Austin Texas for the first time in 2010 and recorded the first of three albums That was a big moment and brought my music to a lot of people

"And it is important for every age group to watch and support live music

"It is especially important for youngsters to watch live music as the world we live in is dominated by instant technology

"Live music is something that resonates long after the moment itself"

Tickets cost £13 20 or £14 on the door with the gig starting at 7 30pm.

Carrack makes return visit

IT will be a case of deja vu when musician Paul Carrack performs at the New Theatre Oxford, this Sunday, January 31.

Returning to the George Street venue almost 11 months after his previous visit, the 64-year-old will be performing hits from his latest album, 'Soul Shadows' while also airing classics such as 'How Long', 'Living Years' and 'Over My Shoulder'.

The former Ace, Squeeze and Mike and The Mechanics musician revealed to the Guardian how he first got into music, something that would later become one of his passions.

"I was always interested in music and influenced my brother John's record collection," he said.

"Everything from Everly Brothers, The Shadows to Ray Charles but when I saw The Beatles live at Sheffield City Hall it was all over as far as doing anything else goes."

On his forthcoming Oxford gig, Carrack said: "We played at the New Theatre last year for the first time in several years and we were pleasantly surprised to have a full house and we got a really great response so we are really looking forward to it."

Paul's national breakthrough came in the mid 1970s when playing with the bands Ace and Squeeze.

By James Richings

Tracks such as, 'How Long', 'Labelled With Love', 'Third Rail' and 'Tempted' served to put the musician on the map.

However it was only after Carrack joined his next band that he was to become a global superstar.

The musician decided to become a member of the pop/rock supergroup Mike and The Mechanics, leading to him becoming a household name.

With the band consisting of established musicians including Mike Rutherford (Genesis) and Paul Young (Sad Cafe), the five-piece group would become huge globally with songs such as 'Silent Running', 'The Living Years', 'Over My Shoulder' and 'World of Mouth'.

The group released seven albums with every one of them peaking in the UK album charts.

Yet out of all of the musicians Carrack has performed and worked with, there is one that stands above the rest.

"Eric Clapton," he said. "He's a great, committed musician who's had, should an amazing life and career.

Also, when asked about being dubbed by the BBC as 'The Man with the Golden Voice', Carrack said: "It's nice but also a bit embarrassing and tempting fate somewhat as singers are always paranoid about getting colds and flu. The respect of my peers and my fans has always meant more to me than being famous."

Former teacher loves life as a comic

TEACHER turned comedian Rob Rouse is relishing the freedom of his new role

He will be bringing his humour to the Glee Club in Hythe Bridge Street, Oxford this weekend.

The former Geography teacher who won the 'So You Think Your Funny' competition at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 1998, will be joined by a top line up of Sean Percival, John Fothergill and another comic who has not been confirmed.

"Comedy's never felt like a job," Rob told the Guardian.

"I'm about to bounce on a trampoline with my daughter at three o'clock on a Tuesday afternoon and I've watched her and her brother grow from babies, albeit sometimes I'm away at weekends so they may tell you a tale of neglect!

"So on the whole, I'd say a sense of freedom is one of the best things about being a comic.'

By James Richings

A popular face in the British comedy circuit, Rob is a regular at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival, which has paved the way for him to appear on panel shows such as 8 out of 10 Cats and Celebrity Juice.

He hosted his own show on BBC Three called 'Comedy Shuffle' with Rob Rouse, which aired in February 2007.

"I could safely say I don't do one-liners, but I just try and be as funny and honest as I possibly can," he said.

"Since I left the womb, I've always loved comedy and funny people, but had no idea it was something I could do as a 'job'.

"Then, whilst training as a teacher, I got bullied into being in a play.

"On the opening night with just me on stage, the set fell down and I just had to improvise while we rebuilt it."

Rob added: "Growing up, it was hard not to be inspired when you're on a diet of Monty Python, Blackadder, Vic and Bob, Fry and Laurie etc, it felt like a very fertile time for comedy.

"Then, as I got older, I discovered Bill Hicks, Richard Pryor and many more American stand ups, which fell more subversive and then you just keep digging and it's endless.

"Then you start doing it and meet new people every day who blow your mind."

To the question of his age, the comedian replied: "287 in dog years."

Tickets cost £13.50 or £5 for students, with the final entry for this Saturday's gig being at 8pm.

The Theatre, Chipping Norton
GRAFFITI CLASSICS
18 strings, 8 singing feet and 4 voices with 1 aim, to make classical exhilarating for everyone, young and old. Graffiti Classics bursts the stuffy boundaries of the traditional string quartet with its hilarious all-singing, all-dancing musical energy of rewriting classical rock art, a gypsy-folk serenade, an opera, a chamber comedy routine, and a brilliant dance show all rolled into one! You will enjoy a broad spectrum of music from Beethoven to Blue Grass, Bach to Brahms, Strauss to Saturday Night Fever – all played with the Graffiti Classics virtuosity. There really is something for everyone and Graffiti Classics never fails to get audiences laughing, clapping and singing along.

Fri, Jan 29, 7.45pm
The Theatre, Chipping Norton
RICHARD DIGANCE
Many people can play guitar and tell stories but not many have supported Steve Harris, Robin Williams or played a guitar duet with Brian May of Queen, Richard Digance has. He is not just a singer/guitarist, but one of the country's most celebrated comedy entertainers. This show brings more hysterically funny nostalgia and a wealth of new songs and anecdotes.

Sat, Jan 30, 7.30pm
The Mill Arts Centre, Banbury
ULTIMATE GENESIS
Live Enlico captures all the excitement of a live Genesis gig, with three hours of non-stop musical wizardry and a state of the art light show. Throughout their progressive career, Genesis have been regarded as one of the very best live bands. Live Enlico recreates the visual magnitude and musical excellence of Genesis to deliver a truly memorable concert and light show theatre. This is the last chance to experience the live, critically acclaimed 70's show which features a selection of Genesis' classic 70s album tracks and massive later hits.

Sat, Jan 30, 6pm
Cimmerstone Arts Centre, Didcot
THE RUFF GUIDE TO SHAKE SPEARE
Specially created to mark the 400th anniversary of his death The Ruff Guide to Shakespeare is a glorious celebration of the work of the world's greatest playwright.
Expect silly sketches, toe-tapping omage, daft dance routines and excerpts from all the famous and some less well-known plays. The show is the perfect introduction to Shakespeare and to the Tudor England that gave birth to his writing.
Ruff Old Vic Theatre School's trademark mix of crystal clear storytelling, live music and inventive staging brings new life and understanding to the beauty and power of Shakespeare's verse.

Ford reaps police vehicle orders

POLICE forces nationwide have chosen both the Ford Kuga sport utility vehicle (SUV) and the Ford Transit Custom van to renew fleets from 2016.

By James Richings

In a total deal comprising 1,100 vehicles forces across the country have recognised the Kuga's all wheel-drive capability and the versatility of the iconic Ford Transit to help in their pursuit of keeping the country safe.

A total of 22 forces from the UK's northern consortium ordered 650 Ford models which includes 120 Kuga SUVs and 560 Transit Custom medium vans with half of the Transit Customs being supplied by Ford as cell vans.

The vans have been converted by its special vehicle preparation (SVP) operation into a vehicle that will be capable of securely transporting two detainees accompanied by up to five police officers.

Ford Kuga and Transit Custom were also top of the SUV and van wish list of the country's southern consortium which also included six fire services as well as 24 police forces.

They also added 110 Ford Transit Connect light vans and 30 Ranger pick ups to the 80 Kugas and 200 Transit Customs which made up their Ford order.

Ford direct sales manager Terry Adams said: "Ford has a long history of working with emergency services spanning 50 years.

"The stylish and capable Ford Kuga has established itself as their rural head car of choice with all important all wheel drive necessary for winter conditions.

British Transport Police, South Wales and Dyfed Powys are other forces with Ford Kugas featuring in their fleets.

The market leading Ford Transit Custom is used in every police region in the country with roles as cell vans, crime scene units, dog carriers and camera vans.

The new all-wheel drive Ford Mondeo is also to be considered as one of the best estate vehicles for the transportation of police dogs.

Its high payload and volume capacity has met the new DEFRA (Department for Environment, Food & Rural Affairs) and RSPCA (Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals) guidelines for in car kennel sizes and welfare of dogs in transit.

Broadcaster Ford driver and dog owner James Whale visited the Ford SVP in Essex to see how the Mondeos were converted into dog units.

Also the addition of a diesel estate to the Focus ST range last year attracted great interest from the police with its combined performance, fuel economy and generous load space.

Guardian Recruitment

Oxfordshire Guardian & Observer Group

are looking to fill the following vacancies

Multimedia Sales People

- Are you confident and outgoing?
- Do you love speaking to people both over the phone and face to face?
- Can you build and maintain rapports with clients?
- Can you think outside the box?
- Are you target driven and money motivated?
- Are you a team player?

Taylor Newspapers are currently looking for talented sales people to join their experienced advertising sales team so if you can tick all the above boxes we would love to hear from you.

If you think you have got what it takes to succeed please email your CV to julian@taylornewspapers.co.uk or call him on 01235 516926 for an informal chat.

Sales Administrator

£15,000 pa + OTE Commission

We are looking for a full time administrator to prepare copy for publication for our newspapers at our offices in Didcot.

You will need to be computer literate, a team player with good communication skills and have a sense of urgency about you.

No experience is required as training will be given and this role could develop into that of an Account Manager dealing with and earning commission from your own customer base.

A great opportunity for someone wishing to enter the media business. Please call Julian Richings for an informal discussion on 01235 516926

Multi-drop Drivers

(with own van)

Owner drivers required for newspaper drops in your area to deliver newspapers on a weekly basis. Salary + fuel allowance.

FULL AND PART-TIME COACH DRIVERS REQUIRED

Tappins Coaches has undergone a major transformation over the last 3 years. Our fleet replacement programme is almost complete with a further 24 new vehicles currently in the course of delivery. As a result we are looking to strengthen our Didcot-based driving team.

We are looking for experienced, smart, flexible and customer-focused professionals. Our work includes home to school transport, rail replacement, express service, corporate charter and multi-day touring both in the UK and mainland Europe. The amount of stage carriage work currently undertaken is very small so applicants from that background will need to demonstrate a clear desire and ability to quickly adapt.

The current rate of pay (including merit bonus) is £12.00 per hour and you will be entitled to 34 days annual leave. All full-time drivers are guaranteed 160 hours per 4-weekly pay period.

If you have other commitments which mean you are unable to work on a full-time basis we have a large volume of home to school, evening and weekend work which we could offer you on a part-time or casual basis.

Please contact us on 01235 519412 or email your details to simon@tappins.co.uk

DISTRIBUTORS REQUIRED

Edney grabs Didcot win with screamer

By Loughlan Campbell

DIDCOT Town's 100 per cent winning start to 2016 continued on Saturday after a 30 yard bullet from Graham Edney secured them a 1-0 victory over 10-man Evesham United.

Player manager Andy Ballard's boys headed up to Worcestershire for the tight affair with both sides bidding to climb the table into the play-off spots.

Diddy played most of the second half a man up after Evesham's leading goalscorer Lance Smith was given his marching orders for two yellow cards.

Inside the first minute Evesham should have been in front with Smith through on goal but his header clipped off the crossbar and Didcat's defence shut up shop.

There was one flash of danger shortly afterwards when Evesham's Lewis Binns sent in a perfectly weighted cross into the area but there was no-one in the box to tap it home.

Smith received his first yellow for a late challenge before half time and was then dismissed shortly after the restart.

The forward slid in on Didcot midfielder Marvin Martin and was immediately given his marching orders by referee Scott Postin.

United were then punished again shortly afterwards when defender Edney collected the ball from 30 yards and unleashed a piledriver past diving keeper Kevin Sawyer into the roof of the net.

Following the goal Didcot stood firm at the back although Evesham should have found the net when Matt Sysum had his header blocked off the line by Kieran Collins.

There was another moment of panic for Ballard's boys late on after a back pass from Adam Learoyd wrong-footed keeper Leigh Bodwell but the ball was just wide of the left-hand post.

The result moves Didcot up to 10th in the table, after Tuesday's match against Burnham was called off because of a waterlogged pitch.

They next host Shortwood United on Saturday with the Gloucestershire-based club currently one place above the Diddy in ninth.

Oxford star commits to U's

OXFORD United Women have secured highly-rated midfielder Ella Franklin-Fraiture to the squad for the upcoming season.

The 18 year old has been with United since she was 10 and is described by the club as a hard-working, skilful player who enjoys taking people on after her new one year deal was confirmed by the club on Monday.

Franklin-Fraiture has been a regular with the first team since she was 15 and made 19 appearances for the squad in last season's campaign.

Her manager Les Taylor said: "Ella is a tremendous product for the future having only just turned 18.

"She is an exciting midfield player who likes to create and get forward. She is a player who I think will be very important to the team for this coming season.

Franklin-Fraiture said: "I am very happy to have been offered a contact for the coming season and can't wait to continue growing as both a team and a player.

"I feel very grateful to have been given the opportunity to play with the first team at a young age, which was my ultimate goal."

She joins Sophie Baker 19, who signed a new deal with the club last week, in agreeing new terms for the season.

Motocross prodigy handed award in lavish ceremony

A SUTTON Courtenay motocross biker picked up his prestigious motocross championship award at a lavish ceremony in Birmingham on Saturday night.

Independent biker Cody Ling, 21, picked up the ACU British Clubman Motorcross Championship trophy at a ceremony at the National Motorcycle Museums in Birmingham after dominating the championship.

Ling has been racing since he was seven years old, accumulating 167 trophies in motorcross with the sport taking up around 30 weekends of his year.

His performance in the Route 77 national championship was enhanced by the fact that he led the way from the 2nd round to the final sixth round racing on a KTM 250F bike in August whilst his 39 other competitors were riding on 350F's and 450F's.

Ling ended up winning the championship and it was only in October last year when his mum Jacqui Ling from Sutton Courtenay 49 found out the news he'd also won the clubman's trophy.

She said: "Every year Cody has gone up through the ranks facing off against sponsorship backed riders and he has done so well.

"We could not be more proud of him, he's just such a talent and these awards shows how good he is at the sport. He just loves to ride."

Bowery bags U's a winner on debut

A SWEETLY struck hal from new signing Jordan Bowery secured a 1 0 win lor Oxford United in a tightly contested encounter al Fratton Park on Saturday

The striker executed a 25-yard effort from range In the second half, just a day after signing for the U s in what was labelled a must win game for Oxford

A packed Fralton Park atmosphere greeted the players as they walked out and United were keen to gel the ball down and play their game from the off

Kemar Roole and George Baldock came close in the opening period with Pompey keeper Ryan Fulton stopping Danny Hylton from going through on goal in a sprint race between the pair

By Loughlan Campbell

United were dominating possession and oozing class on the furl but they couldn t translate their superiority into goals

Pompey's Mark McNulty then came close in the 19th minute with a shot that beat Oxford's Sam Slocombe but was knocked off the line by Jake Wright

Liam Sercombe then came close to finding the net in the 39th when he unleashed an effort that dashed across the face of goal

Four minutes into the second half Oxford won a penalty when Hylton was brought down by Fulton with referee Neil Swarbrick pointing to the spot

Sercombe stepped up to the spot but it was déja vu for Oxford fans once more as the effort was saved and his rebound was blocked away

United didn't let their heads drop and Hylton headed wide from a free-kick shortly afterwards

Bowery then came on for the U s and the stage was set for the former Aston Villa forward, who dragged an effort wide off the post on 71 minutes

Five minutes later he was picked out by Wright and from the edge of the penalty area he unleashed a direct effort at Fulton, which sped past his flailing arms into the corner of the net

The goal secured the win which keeps Oxford in promotion contention in third place ahead of Portsmouth who remain in fifth

Ladies Lose

HOCKEY. Oxford Hockey Club s ladies first s were dealt a 4-1 defeat to Spencer's first's in a home loss with Catherine Reaney grabbing the goal for Oxford

The ladies second's shared the points in a 2-2 draw with Hawks third s with Lara Wilkinson and Lucy Denly grabbing the goals

In the mens, the first team unluckily lost out 5-4 against Maidenhead s first team In which Dan Bleach scored a hat trick.

Double test

ICE HOCKEY. Oxford City Stars are set for a busy weekend with the Yellows heading down to face Invicta Dynamos on Saturday before facing the Cardiff Devils at Oxpens Road on Sunday

It will be two very different games with the Dynamos currently sat in second in the NIHL 2 table whilst the Devils lay at the bottom of the standings.

The Stars head into this weekend on the back of a 3 4 defeat to Chelmsford Chieftains earlier this month.

Title blow

FOOTBALL. Kidlington's title challenge was dealt a blow on Saturday as the Greens fell to a 2 0 defeat to Highmoor Ibis at Palmer Park Stadium

Milton United also fell to a 2-3 scoreline to Blackwell Heath at the Heights in the Hellenic Premier with Royal Wootton Bassett winning 3 0 over Oxford City Nomads

Thame United were also defeated in a 2 1 defeat to Brimscombe & Thrupp on Saturday

Blues to move to Abingdon this season

OXFORD Rugby League club are set to play games in Tilsley Park in Abingdon this season ending their three-year stay at Iffley Road. it's been confirmed.

The decision follows months of planning with the club making the announcement on Saturday after the move was given the seal of approval by the RFL

Club CEO Adrian Smith paid tribute to the club s old ground in a statement stating there is a touch of sadness about the move

He said: 'Iffley Road has been terrific in establishing Oxford RL and gaining the envy of many a club with its wonderful pitch and pavilion and there is a touch of sadness about moving.

'The feeling of excitement about Tilsley is huge and the prospect and potential for growth in Abingdon is there to build upon.

"Tilsley offers a new dynamic playing and training on the state of the art 4G pitch which will be great for the squad.'

The 4G pitch is scheduled to be completed in the packie mid-March so the first couple of home games of the season will take place at Iffley Road

Team manager Steve Jones said "I truly believe the club Abingdon and Tilsley Park together will make a great partnership it s a brilliant opportunity for all concerned

City blast past Cheltenham in cup

OXFORD City blasted their way past Cheltenham Town on Monday night to secure a place in third round of the FA Trophy

Former Cheltenham striker Marlon Jackson had put City in front early on in the contest before Bradley Bubb and Darren Pond rounded out the scoring

Ex City player Omari Sterling-James missed two great efforts for the home side early on before Jackson fired home in the 36th minute with a piledriver from 25 yards

Cheltenham nearly hit back in superb fashion after Bobbie Dale s acrobatic overhead kick struck the crossbar

City then extended their lead with just a couple of seconds gone in the second half after a run from Luke Coulson led to Bubb tapping in

Pond then rounded out the scoring in the game on 77 minutes finding space before poking the ball into the near post from outside the area

The result now sets up a clash with Woking for Oxford in the third round next Saturday

City were in fine form at the weekend when they beat St Albans City 4-1 at Marsh Lane with Bubb, Pond Jackson and Connor McDonagh finding the net for City to send them back into fourth in the table

No luck for Blues in Towcester test

WITNEY could not contain the league leaders Towcestrians in a 16 10 win in an away defeat on Saturday

The Blues consecutive run of six wins was brought to a close in Towcester despite a valiant display from the away side

Witney s Callum Godfrey went over the line in the early stages to kick off the scoring before the home side hit back on 20 minutes with Captain Zak Osborne barrelling over the line out wide

Towcestrians then extended their lead on the stroke of half time after Witney conceded a penalty and fullback James Falvey converted.

The second half started badly for the Blues when they conceded another penalty on 46 minutes and Falvey slotted it home

Left winger Rhys Morgan got Oxford back into the game after a fast paced run from 25 metres in a good team effort to take the score to 11 10

However on 63 minutes, Towcestrians put the game to bed after a couple of rucks saw them push The Blues down to their try line and Dave Stocks went over for a converted try

Witney drop to fourth in the South West 1 East table

Pepperell suffers mixed fortunes

ABINGDON golfing starlet Eddie Pepperell suffered mixed fortunes at the Abu Dhabi Golf Championship last week as his promising start soon faded.

The Frilford Heath golfer started the tournament last Thursday in good spirits and shot a two-under par

Amongst the shots included an eagle at the 16th hole in which he struck 15 pars through out the run, placing 29th in the field.

Three birdies in the first four holes put Pepperell into the top ten during the second round whilst the golfers battled the weather

The weather forced the players into only playing nine holes during the day with the golfer ending the round on 71

The third day saw Pepperell continue his good fortune striking a 69 on the course to lift him up the Leaderboard.

However, his tournament seemed to collapse on the fourth day with the golfer striking a round of 74 for a final total of 284 leaving him with a score of four under par

The result meant the golfer finished the tournament in tied 46th.

However the golfer will have his chance to make his mark this week today when the Commercial Bank Qatar Masters gets underway today in Doha, lasting four days

More signings on the way for Oxford

By Loughlan Campbell

OXFORD United manager Michael Appleton has prepared U's fans to expect incomings and outgoings with the squad before the transfer deadline shuts on Monday night

The U s boss says that fans are likely to see one or two signings to bolster Oxford s attacking options and also confirmed yesterday that two United players are set to spend next season out on loan

The news came as Oxford secured the signing of 18-year old Everton defender Jonjoe Kenny on an initial one-month loan deal. Although he's unlikely to be the last new face to walk through the door at Grenoble Road.

Appleton wouldn t confirm the names of any players likely to depart the Kassam Stadium but midfielder Danny Rose has been touted to leave the U s temporarily in recent weeks

In regards to any more new signings Appleton once again wouldn t be drawn on names

He told the Guardian yesterday. One or two new players could come in either before Monday s deadline or when the emergency loan window reopens

Hopefully we can get one in before the end of the window

In regards to outgoings, two more players are likely to be going out the other way They haven t had enough game time this season and we re happy to let them have the chance "

The U's recently lost two of its forward options with Chris Maguire returning to Rotherham United and Ryan Taylor expected to be out until March through injury

The 40-year old added "We're short in that area at this moment in time so any incomings to the club will likely be in an attacking sense."

United face Championship side Blackburn Rovers in a hotly anticipated fourth round FA Cup tie at the Kassam Stadium on Saturday which was confirmed as a sell out by the club yesterday

Oxford and Blackburn have a rich history with one another in the competition, with the U s beating Rovers 3-1 in February 1964 to get into the quarter-finals in a historic win

Appleton infamously spent 67 days at the helm of Rovers back in 2013 before he took the United job, but says a win over his old side at the Kassam will not cast his thoughts back to the north west

He said "Honestly there will be no real personal significance for me if we grab the win on Saturday

"Everybody knows the story of what happened at Blackburn but I was only given 67 days so I never had the chance to develop a real affinity for the club and put my stamp on them "
